

MYSTERY HUNT DIRECTIONS: 1993 IAP

Welcome to the 1993 IAP Mystery Hunt. The Hunt is a chance for you to demonstrate your problem solving skills while exploring many lesser known areas of the institute as teams compete to decipher the clues they will then follow to the resting place of the famous holy grail and the not so famous coin inside it. The game area is bounded by Vassar Street, Mass. Avenue, the north side of Memorial Drive, and Ames Street. The grail and the information you will need to find it can be located anywhere within this area. You may use any reference materials or other aids and consult anyone you want for help on this quest.

Inside this packet you will find the written portion of the Hunt's puzzles. There is also a computerized portion. This can be accessed through telnet by typing:

telnet ninja 3051

If you do not know how to use telnet or do not have access to a terminal which can use telnet, then please speak to the GM's. If you have other questions about the Hunt, we will be based in the building 37 Athena cluster. We will not be giving out hints, though, until Saturday at noon.

Good luck!!!

23. Shalt thou count to five, before thou lobbest the Holy Hand Grenade of Antioch?

I have now arrived at the ancient ruins from my dream. I tied my horse to one of the many metal hitching posts that stood before me, but, realizing that I will have to go on foot, I turned him loose and he ran away. No doubt he was terrified by the ruins ahead of me. Four circular columns, perhaps the remains of a temple of some long forgotten pagan god, stood ahead of me, and past them was a tall post with a torch mounted on it. I stopped to sit down and look around. Looking down, I saw that there was very little grass on the ground here, perhaps because of the horses. The only vegetation is the trees on the path I just left. Behind me on my right I see the first face of the mountain and entrance to the tunnel, apparently part of an old mine, just as I remember them. Tomorrow I will follow the path ahead of me. I almost cannot wait another day, but I know I must rest now.
